

I STRONGLY OBJECT to the proposed relaxation of media ownership rules. Although I have generally supported the Republican agenda for many years, such obvious and excessive concession to the interests of industry over the best interests of the public is highly objectionable, and I will use my vote in the next congressional and presidential elections to protest Republican support for such a change, if it is enacted. The consumer and the nation will be hurt by such a change.